CERTIFICATIONS

- TESOL Certificate — Arizona State University (Completed: January 2024)

  A recognized credential that certifies individuals to teach English to non-native speakers, providing them with practical and theoretical knowledge of strategies, methodologies, and techniques for teaching English as a second or foreign language. It is often a requirement for teaching English in schools and institutions worldwide.

- Introduction to Safeguarding for Externals — Nord Anglia University (Completed: September 2022)

  The certificate aims to equip participants with the necessary knowledge and skills to identify, assess, and report safeguarding concerns that may arise in various settings. The course covers essential safeguarding topics, including legal obligations and reporting procedures, making it highly informative for those seeking a basic understanding of safeguarding issues.
